

Two children were talking about angels.

Alison said: 'An angel is a bit like a tooth fairy...but it does not collect teeth. An angel is a good person...but maybe it's not. An angel has two wings and it wears pink...but it might not.'

Kirsty was sure about some things: 'An angel is a little thing that flies and has no shoes. Sometimes it is invisible, but all the time it goes about doing good things and making people happy...Oh yes and it also has a harp, then it can sing little songs to help people forget their troubles...'
